WESTERN FACE OF WALL

INTERPRETATION

internal wall probably for the latest occupation of room. divides a small section of the room on the western side. originally the wall came further north, possibly to the limit of room 12. built abutting earlier ashlar construction's 5447 and 5448 in the repurposing of the space. possibly used as a dividing wall for tabernae as evidenced by the ridging in the ashlar blocks 5451.
